Although Reina Renovations, LLC was established a few years ago, it has become one of the most progressive home improvement companies in New Jersey. The owner, Chuck Reina, focuses on providing and installing windows, doors, siding and decks to homeowners, in addition to large, commercial projects, with attention to service and detail unlike other companies.

Last August, Reina Renovations completed work on the 82-unit, 14 building Deep Run Townhouse development on Route 9 in Old Bridge. The project included removing and disposing original wood clapboard, structural repair and the installation of vinyl siding, in addition to replacing decks, windows and doors. "We were selected due to the quality of our workmanship, our ability to complete the project quickly and, above all, because we take pride in the service we provide to our customers," Reina said.

Unlike other contractors, Reina takes a hands-on approach to his projects and makes sure everything gets his stamp of approval. "On many occasions, companies assign specific tasks that are completed by multiple people: one person orders materials, another coordinates with the customer and another is on-site overseeing the job. As owner/operator, it is important to me that customers have a positive experience; I take pride in the service and products we offer, which is why I oversee every step of the process to insure the delivery of a quality product and an experience that will lead our customers to recommend us to their friends, family and colleagues."

Reina has been working in the industry since he was a teenager, working alongside his father and brother where they purchased, fixed and sold properties. The experience developed his strong work ethic, which enabled him to pay for his college education by painting homes on weekends and during the summer. For the last 15 years he has sold and installed windows, doors and siding to more than 2,200 customers.

Reina Renovations caters to large commercial projects and small residential homeowners, is a five-star certified contractor with CertainTeed building materials, is fully licensed and insured and is registered with the Community Association Institute. Over the years Reina has received many national design awards as a result of his training, experience and expertise.
